Webinar: Getting meaningful exposure scenarios: how sector use maps help

30 March 2017

Andrew Murray

Key messages

- Use maps help registrants and downstream users with structured, harmonised and realistic information on use and exposure
- Downstream user industry sectors have published their use maps; others are updating them
- First registrants have committed to use them for 2018 registration. Use maps can help when updating registrations
- Investigate what's going on in your sector
- Check the use maps library on ECHA's website
